

Seminar on Safety and Environmental Offences in Construction Project

(Organised by HKQAA, supported by HKLTI)

Successfully Held on 23 February 2018

Criminal prosecution for breaches of safety and environmental related legislations in construction projects will be elucidated through representative court cases.

From perspectives of practicing barristers, this course provide highlights will on the nature of the offences and the defences commonly available for the types of prosecution. In addition, the personal liability of the management of the construction team as well as the investigation powers of the concerned authorities will also be discussed.

The Seminar on “Safety and Environmental Offences in Construction Project” was successfully held on 23 February 2018. The visiting lecturer was Ms. Tina Mok, Barrister-at-law.