

Seminar on Masterclass in Land Resumption Law

(Organised by ETBC, supported by HKLT)

Successfully Held on 6, 8, 13, 15 January 2020

Land resumption is getting more attention in Hong Kong. With the forthcoming development anticipated, for public purposes, the Hong Kong Government may need to resort to the legislative backup for resuming private plots of land more often than before.

This masterclass provides an overview of the essential laws concerning the resumption of land and compensation practice that are typical under the Land Resumption Ordinance (Cap.124). Via discussion of lessons learnt from decided cases, the law and practice in the related areas that those involved need to be alerted to are highlighted. Furthermore, via interactive methodologies, participants may acquire adequate legal skills and practical knowledge by a combination of case studies in simulated settings.

The Seminar on “Masterclass in Land Resumption Law” was successfully held on 6, 8, 13, 15 January 2020. The visiting lecturer was Mr. Duncan Ho, Barrister-at-law.
