

Seminar on Safety and Environmental Offences in Construction Project

(Jointly organised with HKQAA)

Successfully Held on 30 March 2017

Criminal prosecution for breaches of safety and environmental related legislations in construction projects will be elucidated through representative court cases.

From perspectives of practicing barristers, this seminar will provide highlights on the nature of the offences and the defences commonly available for the types of prosecution. In addition, the personal liability of the management of the construction team as well as the investigation powers of the concerned authorities will also be discussed.

The Seminar on “Safety and Environmental Offences in Construction Project” was successfully held on 30 March 2017. The visiting lecturer was Ms. Claris Kwong, Barrister-at-law.
